During this day, you will have the opportunity to visit and see different types of food plots.

From 10 to 15 different plants will be presented to you with explanations on the advantages and disadvantages of each. You will have the opportunity to visit various food plots with an expert who will be available to answer all your questions.

Lunch will then be served.

But the day isn't over yet! Many more surprises await you like a famous whitetail lecturer.

Visit our website regularly to obtain the most recent information on this event and future events in your area. <http://www.qdmacanada.com/>

This event is for QDMA member only. You will have the chance of becoming a member on site or you can do so through our website. http://www.qdma.com/member/levels_intl.asp.

A QDMA membership gives you an automatic subscription to the exclusive magazine Quality Whitetails which is published 6 times a year. This high quality publication is filled with valuable information.

You may also become a member right now and secure your place for the 11th of August 2007.

It's a day you will not soon forget! Pass the word onto your friends and family.

Hope to see on this great day!

The QDMA Canada Team

Note: We are always on the look out for volunteers and whitetails enthusiasts for the QDMA Canada Organisation. We are currently searching for translators, writers, various help, photographers ect.... So if you have maybe 1 or 2 hours a month, send us an email.
